Generally, chocolate spreads contain a huge amount of calories, sugar, and fats. So, if you like to take care of yourself, you will certainly have banned them from your diet a long time ago. Now those days are over, as to make NutProtein Choco Spread Crunchy we add no sugars and use 100% natural, non-hydrogenated vegetable oil.

The special feature of Nut Protein Choco Spread Crunchy is that we have boosted the protein content to 21% protein by using real concentrated whey. Proteins are an essential nutrient for staying healthy and maintaining and developing muscle, as well as making you feel full. Whey protein is rich in essential amino acids and BCAAs.

Nut Protein Choco Spread Crunchy can be considered a “Low Carb” product. Not all carbohydrates are equal or have the same effect on the body. For example, out of the 39% carbohydrates in NutProtein Choco Spread Crunchy, only 6 grams could be considered net carbs. This is because most of its carbohydrates come from maltitol, a low-calorie polyol. The sugars in its composition are found naturally in whey protein.
